GENTEC-EO RELEASES ITS NEXT GENERATION SOFTWARE APPLICATION FOR THE MAESTRO

Quebec City, CANADA - October 22nd, 2012 - Gentec Electro-Optics, Inc. (Quebec City, Canada), has just released the software application for its famous MAESTRO Touchscreen Laser Power & Energy Meter. This new software is the first in the next-gen applications that are scheduled for the coming months. The new software features a full color interface that follows the esthetics and functionalities customers have grown to appreciate from the MAESTRO.

The new PC-MAESTRO features:

- A new innovative way of doing software for the scientific world: user-friendliness, attractive graphics, intuitive commands.
- Seamless integration with the MAESTRO: same buttons, functions and menus.
- A lightweight application that is both elegant and powerful!

An Effective Design for Powerful Measurements
